THE INSTRUCTIONS TO WILLIS

The President's Latest Communication to Congress.

ROYALIST STOCK IS SINKING FAST.

Cleveland Does Not Like to Have His "Request" Disobeyed-Willis Explains the Action of the Corwin Upon Her Arrival.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 .- The President this morning sent to the House the correspondence asked for on Ha-waiian matters, unaccompanied by any special message, aside from the letter of transmittal. The letter is as follows:

To Congress: I transmit herewith copies of all dispatches from our Min-ister to Hawaii relating in any way to political affairs in Hawaii, except such as have been heretofore transmitted to Congress. I also send copies of the in-structions sent January 12, 1893, being the only instructions that have not been sent to Congress.

In my former message to Congress I withheld dispatch No. 3, under date of November 16, 1893, and dispatch No. of November 16, 1893, and dispatch No. 70, under date of October 8, 1892. Inasmuch as the centents of dispatch No. 3 are all referred to in a dispatch of more recent date, and inasmuch as there seems to be no longer reason for withholding it, the same is herewith submitted. Dispatch No. 70 is still withheld, for reasons that seem to be justifiable and proper. justifiable and proper.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

INSTRUCTIONS TO WILLIS. The last instructions to Willis, and the only ones not heretofore sent to Congress, were dated yesterday. They were sent by telegraph to F. A. Cooper, the dispatch agent at San Francisco, to be forwarded to Willis by the steamer Mariposa today. The dis-patch is as follows:

"Your numbers 14 to 18, inclusive show you have rightly comprehended the scope of your instructions, and have, as far as in your power, dis-charged the onerous task confided in

"The President sincerely regrets the Provisional Government refuses to acquiesce in the conclusion which his sense of right and duty and a due regard for our national honor constrained him to reach and submit as a measure of justice to the people of the Hawaiian Islands and their deposed sovereign, while it is true the Pro visional Government was created to exist only until the islands were annexed to the United States. The queen finally, but reluctantly, surrendered to an armed force of this Government, illegally quartered in Honolulu, and to the representatives of the Provisional Government. which real ized its impotence, and, anxious to get control of the queen's means of defense, assured her if she would surrender, her case would be considered by the United States.

The President never claimed that such action constituted him an arbitrator in a technical sense, or authorized him in that capacity between the queen and the Provisional Govern-ment. You made no such claims when you acquainted that Government with the President's decision. The solemn assurance given the queen has been referred to, not as authority for the President to act as arbitrator, but as a fact material to the just determination of the President's duty in the premises. In a note which the Minister of Foreign Affairs addressed to you on the 23d ultimo, it is stated in effect that even if the Constitutional Gov ernment was subverted by action of the American Minister and an invasion by the military force of the United States, the President's au-thority is so limited to dealing with our own unfaithful officials that he can take no steps looking to the correction of the wrong done. The President entertains a different view of his responsibility and duty. The subversion of the Hawaiian Government by the abuse of the authority of the United States was in plain violation of international laws, and required the United States to disavow and condemn the act of our offending officials, and, within the limits of his constitutional power, endeavor to re-store the lawful authority.

"On the 18th ultimo the President sent a special message to Congress communicating copies of Blount's report and the instructions given to him and to you. On the same day, answering the resolution of the House of Representatives, he sent copies of all correspondence since March 4, 1889, on the political affairs and relations of Hawaii, withholding for sufficient reasons only Stevens' No. 70, dated October S, 1892, and your No. 3 of November 15, 1893.

"The President therein announces that the conditions of restoration suggested by him to the queen had not proved acceptable to her, and that since the instructions were sent to you to insist upon those conditions he had not learned that the queen was willing to assent to them. The President thereupon submitted the subject to the more extended powers and the wide discretion of Congress, adding the assurance that he would be grati-fied to co-operate in any legislative plan which might be provided for the solution of the problem, consistent with American integrity and moral-

Your reports show on further reflection the queen gave her unqualified assent in writing to the conditions suggested, but that the Provisional I F. Bulletin.

Government refuses to acquiesce in the President's decision. "The matter now being in the hands of Congress, the President will keep that body fully advised of the situa-tion and will lay before it from time to time the reports received from you, including your No. 3, heretofore with-held, and all instructions sent you.

"Meantime, while keeping the de-partment fully informed of the course of events, you will, until further no-tice, consider your special instructions upon this subject to have been fully complied with.

"[Signed.] GRESHAM."

THE CORWIN'S ACTION EXPLAINED. The last dispatch from Minister Willis inclosing President Dole's reply to his demand for the retirement of the Provisional Government is as follows, under date of December 23d: "President Dole has just delivered in person at this hour, midnight, the answer of the Provisional Government declining, for the reasons therein stated, to accept the decision of the President of the United States, a copy of which is herewith inclosed.

"The revenue cutter Corwin, under sailing orders, will leave in a few minutes for San Francisco. The captain has been instructed to slow up if necessary and enter the harbor of San Francisco at night and deliver in person Dispatches 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19 to our dispatch agent at that place. The object of this is to enable the President to receive these official com-munications before any intimation of their character can be telegraphed.

"I will Tuesday acknowledge the receipt of the asswer of the Provisional Government, notifying it that the President of the United States will be informed thereof and that no further steps would be taken by me until I heard from him. "I shall deliver a similar communication to the queen.

"Very great excitement is prevailing here, and the peculiar conditions surrounding this people prompt the above course, which I trust will meet the approbation of the President and "I think it proper to acknowledge in this public way the efficient ser-vices rendered the Government of the United States by our Consul-General, Mills, since my arrival at this place. "ALBERT S. WILLIS." TWO POTENTATES.

'Let me undo the wrong, Great and good sister. Once more the throne shall be your own. Great and good sister."
"No, I'se afraid; g'long, Great and good brother."

'For you I've greatly dared, Great and good sister; I've sent out Blount on my own account, Great and good sister." 'Tam't no use, I'se scared, Great and good brother. 'For you I'm on the rack, Great and good sister;

Great and good sists

"I'se no gwine to go back, Great and good brother." "Come now, I say you must, Great and good sister: Nor woman nor man shall spoil my plan.

And Congress, see, is after me,

Scuse me, I'll take the 'dust,' Great and good brother." You must, I say you must, Great and good sister; Be queen, I say; my words obey, Great and good sister."

Great and good sister." 'I won't, won't, won't, won't, Bah, great and good brother!" -N. Y. Sun.

AN UNPUBLISHED DESPATCH.

(Confidential.) DEAR GOLDEN LIL.: I am surprised And shocked at your behavior. You don't appreciate the work Of him who'd be your savior.

A pretty mess you've made of it. Why won't you take your throne back? If you won't let me restore your crown.

Here I've been sending out such men As Willis and as Blount is. And told them that to root for you Their duty paramount is. And they did root, majestic Lil.

I'll let you take your own tack.

You'll back me up in saying that. But I can't do the job alone; That's what, alas, I'm praying at. I'm running these United States With hardly any aid at all; And it keeps me mighty busy, too,

I tell you, royal jade and all !

For I have Congress on my hands— A bilious job for any man; These vassals always think they know As much as Grover Cleveland can. Consider all the pains I've had

To raise your measly throne again; And after all the work is done, You won't accept your own again! It is not right! It is not just! Do think the matter over now, And notify, without delay, Your great and good friend Grover,

BLOUNT GIVES HIS TESTIMONY

He Appears Before the Foreign Relations Committee.

DON QUIXOTE AND SANCHO PANZA.

senator Davis, of Minnesota, Says That the Flag That Has Once Waved Over the Islands Should be Raised Again.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The N. Y. Herald's correspondent says: In some respects Mr. Willis' reports are a disappointment to the State Department. It does not appear that he actually urged the queen to agree to the conditions imposed by the President, as it was feared from the press dispatches he had, but the authorities are displeased by his failure to grasp the full spirit of his last instructions, which directed him to inform the queen that the President would cease interposition in her behalf "at once" refused assent to the written conditions,

Minister Willis' dispatches show that he allowed her some little time after the Corwin arrived to make up her mind whether she would accept the conditions. Right here is where Minister Willis made a blunder in the opinion of the State Department officials. They are disappointed that, acting under a clause in his original instructions in which he was told that he should be guided largely by his own good judgment in dealing with the delicate situation, he did not cease interposition in the interests of the queen the moment the instructions by the Corwin reached him. Knowing, as he must have known, because of the time given the Provisional Government to increase its military strength, it would be absolutely impossible to bring about the desired end through peaceful means, they think it showed bad judgment on Minister Willis' part in not stopping the negotiations at once and advising the Administration of the above. the Administration of the changed situation. Following fast upon the footsteps of the Turple resolution that Representa-tive Holman proposes to introduce, providing for a protectorate over the islands, it is strongly intimated in Congressional circles tonight that, in view of the failure of this Administration in dealing with Hawaii up to the present time, the next move of President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham will be to get out from under the difficulties that are now besetting them by turning the whole matter over to Congress for settlement and in recommending a protectorate over the islands.

As has been previously intimated in the Washington dispatches to the Examiner, somebody at this time un-known is probably to be made a "scapegoat" to cover up the mistakes that have been made. It is presumed now that either "Paramount" Blount or Minister Willis will be brought into requisition for this purpose, There is an intimation, however, that the President may go so far, in order to clear his own skirt, as to implicate Secretary Gresham as one of the prime movers in the Hawaiian case. Washington, Jan. 10.—The Senate Foreign Relations' sub-committee on Hawaii met as usual this morning. with Lieutenant Laird as the only witness. Lieutenant Laird occupied the entire hour that the committee was in session, and proved to be one more witness to corroborate the story of Captain Wiltse concerning the landing of troops from the Boston at Honolulu. Blount Very "Cocky."

Washington, Jan. 11. — Senate Committee on Foreign Relations held its regular executive session in pursuance of the investigation inaugu-rated in the Hawaiian imbroglio, and the most important witness before that committee was ex-"Paramount" Commissioner Blount, who, according to the best information obtainable tonight, submitted very little evidence of extraordinary character and nothing whatever that was not contained in his report to the State Department, which was transmitted to Congress during the opening days of the session. It is understood that Blount was very "cockey," to use an expression of the street, in his appearance before the Foreign Relations Committee, and although more than usual effort was made to secure additional evidence from him of an important character, very little was accomplished. Senator Davis' Speech

The speeches delivered in the Senate today were remarkable in many respects. Senator Davis, of Minnesota, concluded his long argument begun yesterday in opposition to the present Administration's Hawalian policy.

Senator Davis asserted that the landing of American marines at the order of Minister Stevens was only in accordance with practices in case of revolution and had many times been demonstrated to be necessary in preserving the interests of American cit-izens. If the queen, by a violation of the constitution and her own revolutionary acts precipitated a counter revolu-tion, she should not complain of any indirect influence that might have been exerted by the necessary landing of American troops to protect American interests. Mr. Davis said in part:
"When the revolution commenced the farce came to an end.
